CENTENNIAL EDITION

Elk Point School #2005
→ Elk Point, Alberta.

It was a great honor to be chosen the editor of this Centennial "Wapiti".

The theme of our 1967 yearbook has special Centennial significance. It emphasizes through the division pages and the dedication, the life of an early pioneer.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Murray, the yearbook staff, our sponsors, and everyone who has helped in any way to produce this book.

Principal's Message

As we advance into the second century of Canadian nationhood, may we take pride in our nation's history and economic development. Our forefathers, the pioneers, have laid a firm foundation on which to build future prosperity. There is no country in the world where young people have a better chance to make their own way according to ability, knowledge, and initiative.

Those who succeed are invariably those who have a thirst for knowledge, go out and secure their knowledge in one way or another, and then put it to work. A specific, concrete and definite aim in life may be attained step by step until the final milestone is reached, not by doing as one pleases but in doing as one chooses.

The editor and staff of the "Wapiti" are to be commended for production of this interesting publication.

On behalf of the staff may I extend to the 1967 graduates of the F. G. Miller High School best wishes for future success and happiness.

LES PROFESSEURS

If you guys win, I'll get married!

Meet me in my room at 15 to 12.

My wife had a WHAT????????????

Don't look now, but someone's taking a picture of us!

How can you say that it's a boy frog if you found ovaries?

What light shines on yonder head?

STOPPING BY THE WOODS ON A SNOWY EVENING

ROBERT FROST

Whose woods these are I think I know.
His house is in the village though;
He will not see me stopping here
To watch his woods fill up with snow.

My little horse must think it queer
To stop without a farmhouse near
Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.

He gives his harness bells a shake
To ask if there is some mistake.
The only other sound's the sweep
Of easy wind and downy flake.

The woods are lovely, dark and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

The students of F. G. Miller High School extend sincere wishes for happiness and well-being to our principal who will be leaving us at the end of this school year.

Mr. Beattie has been the principal at Elk Point since 1941. He has served our community faithfully for the past twenty-six years; not only as an outstanding teacher and principal, but also as a private citizen much interested in community affairs. He served three years as village counsellor, and has been a past President of the Chamber of Commerce and the Elk Point Curling Club. He is still serving as a member of the board of the Elk Point Centennial Library, a position he has held for the past twelve years.

"Dum Vivimus Vivamus" his school motto and ours at F. G. Miller High is one he has lived by all his life. Translated it means "While we live, Let us live." During the last quarter century, he has tried to instill in his students the importance of this motto as applied to their studies and also to their personal lives.

We hope that he and Mrs. Beattie will enjoy the many wonderful days to come, and that once in awhile they will drop by and say hello to the many at F. G. Miller High School who will greatly miss them.

THE UNCONQUERABLE MIND

If you think you are beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, you don't!
If you like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you've lost,
For out in the world you'll find,
Success begins with a person's will,
It's all in the state of mind.

Think big, and your deeds will grow,
Think small and you fall behind;
Think that you can, and you will;
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think big to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But sooner or later, the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can.

George Buksa, George Milholland, Don Rae, John Yewchin.

Maureen, Cheryl, Gail, and Carol represented the F.G. Miller High School in the North Eastern Alberta High School Girls' Curl-O-Rama. By winning two of their three games in Cold Lake, the girls advanced to the zone play-offs early in February. They represented our district at the Belmoral Club but were beaten in their final game by Westlock.

Our representatives at the Taylor and Pearson High School Boys' Curl-O-Rama at Grand Centre were John, George, Don, and George. Although they won their first game against Heinsburg, they were eliminated from further play by St. Paul.

SPORTS REVIEW

The students of F. G. Miller High School successfully participated in numerous sports activities during the year. These categories include: volleyball, basketball, cheerleading, curling, baseball, and softball.

Unfortunately, the boys' and girls' volleyball teams were defeated in a County Tournament at St. Paul early in the year.

Basketball, the leading sport, has brought fame and three trophies to F. G. Miller High. Tribute should be paid to the High School girls who have become one of the top four "B" teams in Alberta. They progressed this far by winning the County Cup at a tournament in St. Paul, the Zone Cup in Vegreville, and proceeding to the Provincial Play-offs in Drumheller. The Junior High School girls have brought honour to our school by winning the County Cup at a tournament in Mallaig; here they defeated Glen Avon, Racette and Heinsburg. Although the High School boys lost the County Cup, they were eligible for the Zone Play-offs at Vegreville where they placed second. The Junior High Boys were unable to bring home a trophy because they lost their two encounters to Mallaig and Glendon at the County Tournament in Glendon.

High School Curling was a well supported winter sport and students who participated on winning rinks in the Bonspiel were presented with trophies. The rink representing F. G. Miller High in the Taylor-Pearson Curl-O-Rama at Grand Centre was eliminated after losing their fourth game to St. Paul. Our girls' rink won the North Eastern Alberta Ladies Bonspiel at the R. C. A. F. Station, Cold Lake, and progressed to the Zone Play-downs in Edmonton.

Once again, the Baseball and Softball tournament was held in Elk Point. The High School girls won all three of their encounters which were against Mallaig, Ashmont and Glen Avon. Not to be out-done by their elders, our Junior High girls won a County Cup also, by defeating Ashmont and Heinsburg. The High School boys' baseball team and the Junior High softball, met with little success; our senior boys defeated Racette in the first game but lost to Glendon in the finals, whereas the Juniors lost their two games to Blue Quill.

These sports activities were enjoyed by athletes and spectators alike. Thank you for your co-operation.

TEACHING RULES

in the year 1867

These rules for teachers were posted by a New York City Principal in 1867.

1. Teachers each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys, trim wicks.
2. Each teacher will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's sessions.
3. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to the individual taste of the pupil.
4. Men teachers may take one evening each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.
5. After ten hours in school the teachers spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.
6. Women teachers who marry or engage in unseemly conduct will be dismissed.
7. Every teacher should lay aside for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.
8. Any teacher who uses liquor in any form, smokes, frequents pool or public halls, or gets shaved in a barber shop will give good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity, and honesty.
9. The teacher who performs his labors faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of twenty-five cents per week in his pay providing the Board of Education approves.

AND THIS IS THE END.

How do you build a great country? Time and pride and people. This is what has made Canada the country that it is today.

People like — Laurier, MacKenzie, St. Laurent, Sir John A. Macdonald — all of our country's people have helped to make Canada a leader among the nations of the world. Today, we find ourselves on the threshold of our country's 100th year — to help you celebrate this occasion it is our sincere pleasure to introduce to you a picture story of Canada's past and how the next hundred years will truly become our country's golden age.

FATHERS OF CONFEDERATION – The meeting of the Fathers of Confederation at Quebec in 1864 led to the union of the provinces in Confederation in 1867.

Macdonald acted as conference chairman and, on July 1, 1867, when the British North America Act uniting the provinces went into operation, he became the first prime minister of the Dominion of Canada.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

A. MacKENZIE

On March 31, 1949, Newfoundland became the tenth province to enter Confederation, thus completing the unification of Canada from "sea to sea" as envisioned by the Fathers of Confederation back in 1867.

On July 22, 1793 – Alexander MacKenzie successfully reached the Pacific by land. Commemorating the event at Dean Channel, MacKenzie inscribed the above message upon a large flat rock. At mouth of Bella Coola River in British Columbia, the rock has been found and the inscription restored.

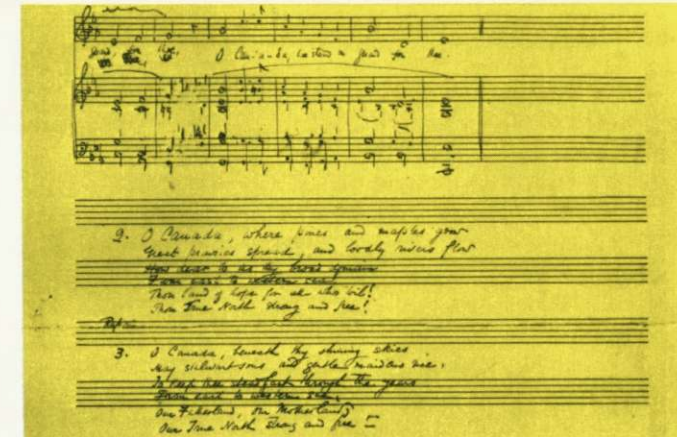

LOUIS RIEL

Hero. Martyr. Rebel. He secured the entry of Manitoba into Confederation as a province rather than as a territory.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell – Invented the principal of the telephone in 1874. First working model came two years later.

The original music was composed by Calixa Lavallee in 1880. The official English words were created by Dr. Stanley Weir in 1908.

SHINPLASTER

Due to a shortage of silver coins and because paper money could be printed quickly, the government issued 25 cent notes in the year 1870. They were popularly called shinplasters.

NORTH WEST MOUNTED POLICE

1873 – Sir George Arthur French was the first commissioner of the North West Mounted Police. At the outset it consisted of 3 divisions with a total number of 150 men. Primary area patrolled at that time was the Fort McLeod area, a little north west of the present site of Lethbridge, Alberta.

DRIVING OF LAST SPIKE

Donald Smith, in November 1885, at Carigellachie, B.C., drove the spike joining the east and west sections of the trans-continental railway. Construction began in 1881.

OPENING OF THE KLONOSKE — A major gold strike was made on Rabbit Creek in the Klondike on August 17, 1896. The discoverer was George W. Carmack. A few days after the discovery, Rabbit Creek became known by the more dramatic name of Bonanza.

Gold had been found many years before the great strike but in small deposits. The Carmack discovery precipitated the famous gold rush which hit its peak in the spring of 1898. It is estimated that 100,000 persons actually set out for Dawson City.

EXPLORER — THOMPSON

1770-1857: DAVID THOMPSON in May, 1807 accompanied by his wife and family, crossed the Rockies by what is now known as Howse Pass. He was the first white man to travel the full length of the Columbia River.

MARCONI

GUGLIELMO MARCONI: He sent the first wireless message, a distance of one mile in 1895. He received the first trans-Atlantic wireless message at St. John's, Nfld. in 1901.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER — Leader of the Canadian Liberal Party, 1887-1919; prime minister of Canada, 1896-1911. Laurier devoted his life to furthering the cause of Canadian unity.

ROALD AMUNDSEN, in the schooner Gjoa, arrived at Nome, Alaska, the first completed traverse of the North-West Passage. He is also credited with laying down the exact location of the north magnetic pole.

QUEBEC BRIDGE, A HISTORY OF DISASTER — The now famous bridge was started in 1900, collapsed on August 29, 1907 killing seventy-five workmen. Reconstructed in 1913, the bridge collapsed again on September 11, 1916 killing 13 more people. The bridge was finally constructed in 1917 and has remained standing since. The bridge was constructed to link Quebec City with the trade and commerce of the south shore on the St. Lawrence.

FIRST WORLD WAR 1914-1918: On October 16, First Canadian Contingent of over 33,000 troops landed at Plymouth, England. More than four hundred thousand Canadians "proceeded overseas" to make the world safe for democracy. Fifty thousand soldiers died.

DR. FREDERICK BANTING along with his lab assistant Dr. Charles Best discovered insulin in November, 1921 for the treatment of diabetes.

PLACE VILLE MARIE, Centennial concert halls, hundreds of private, high rise apartment buildings. Today a new wave of growth is making its mark across the nation.

WORLD WAR II — 1939-1945: In World War II a total of 1,086,771 Canadians were in uniform. It was going to be a short war; that was the feeling, it lasted six long years.

WORLD WAR I hastened airplane development. Today, Canadian air carriers transport more than 5.5 million passengers a year.

THE TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY stretches 5,160 miles joining Nova Scotia to British Columbia. Construction: 1949-1962. Cost: $625 million dollars.

CANADA'S NEW FLAG was introduced on December 15th, 1964 by the Rt. Hon. Lester B. Pearson. Officially became Canada's flag on Feb. 15th, 1965.

COLLEGE

Advanced methods in education plus thousands upon thousands of students, are today the foundation for Canada's next one hundred years.

BLACK BRANT ROCKETS launched from the rocket range at Churchill, Manitoba measure the characteristics of the upper atmosphere.

AERIAL VIEW OF EXPO

Canada marks one hundred years of progress with Expo on Ste Helene's Island in the St. Lawrence River at Montreal.

Can you imagine for one moment this great country of ours in the year 2067? That's one-hundred years from now and if the acceleration of our growth was to maintain the same pace, Canada would still be one of the leading nations of the world — if not the leader.

But to sit and contemplate and try to forecast the future is not how this country was built, and crystal-ball gazing has never been a set formula for success. It is the wisdom, courage and action of great men like Sir John A. Macdonald, Laurier, Borden and others that has helped to make this country what it is today.

So how can we as individuals, even dare, to think about or even voice opinions on how this country will look to the eyes of the world in the next one-hundred years.

Impossible? Not really. Perhaps to look back in order to look ahead is the answer. That great span of time from 1867 to 1967 has served us well, and the accomplishments of the Canadian people have constantly multiplied over the years.

For example. From a small beginning back in 1750 a primary textile industry was established in Quebec. Today, the textile and clothing industry in Canada has a work force of 185,000 workers and the annual production in Quebec alone totals about $700 million.

In 1803, the first Canadian paper mill established near Lachute, Quebec produced paper from rags, and forty-one years later, Charles Fenerty, lumberman's son of Sackville, N.S., revealed details of his discovery of how to make paper from ground pulp. This was the start of the pulp and paper industry, which today generates one dollar in eight of incomes of all Canadians. Newsprint paper is now a leading Canadian export commodity.

Canada's first motor vehicle is believed to have been an electric car built in 1893 by the Dixon Carriage Works in Toronto. In 1965 Canadian automobile assembly lines produced 710,711 cars and 144,765 commercial vehicles. At the end of 1965 the total number of vehicles in use was almost 6,725,400. In 1882 the first practical use of electricity was put into operation in a Quebec textile mill who generated its own power. Ever since, Hydro growth has continued to rise with a total output of electrical energy at a staggering

42 billion kilowatts in 1946, 134 billion in 1964 and 143 billion in 1965. Canada's first nuclear power station, a 20,000 kilowatt experimental plant at Rolphton, Ontario, opened in 1962.

In the area of transportation, Canada's first road was a ten-mile, log-surfaced stretch built by Champlain in 1606. To date, the country has more than 430,000 miles of highways, including the famous Trans-Canada Highway which stretches a total of 5,160 miles and was built at a cost of $625 million.

The first flight in Canada of a heavier-than-air machine under its own power (McCurdy's Silver Dart) took place in 1909. Today there are over 5,000 licensed aircraft, more than half of them private planes. Canadian air carriers transport more than 5.5 million passengers a year.

Back in 1867, the population of Canada was 3,689,000 with a total of 80,300 students and some 13,559 teachers in our schools. It is predicted that the student population will be 4,000,000 with 189,705 teachers out of a total population of 19,500,000 in 1967.

In late 1965 the Bladen commission, appointed by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada, forecasted total expenditures of universities would rise from $429 million in 1963-64 to $1.3 billion in 1970-71 and to $2.0 billion in 1975-76; the commission also forecasted that enrolment would rise from 201,000 in 1965-66 to 461,000 in 1975-76, or from less than seven per cent of the 18-24 years age group to about 16 per cent.

Fact upon fact, figure upon figure, there are enough to fill a million pages and more and all of them relating to progress. Canada is still a very young country with fresh ideas and the most important quality that is synonymous with the young — AND THAT IS VITALITY.

Where does Canada go from here? For a start, during its Centennial year the country will be host to some 70 countries from April 28 to October 27 during the Expo '67 World Fair to be held in Montreal; host to over 33 different countries during the Fifth Pan-American Games to be held from July 22nd to August 7th, in Winnipeg. Aren't you proud to be a Canadian?
