Editorial

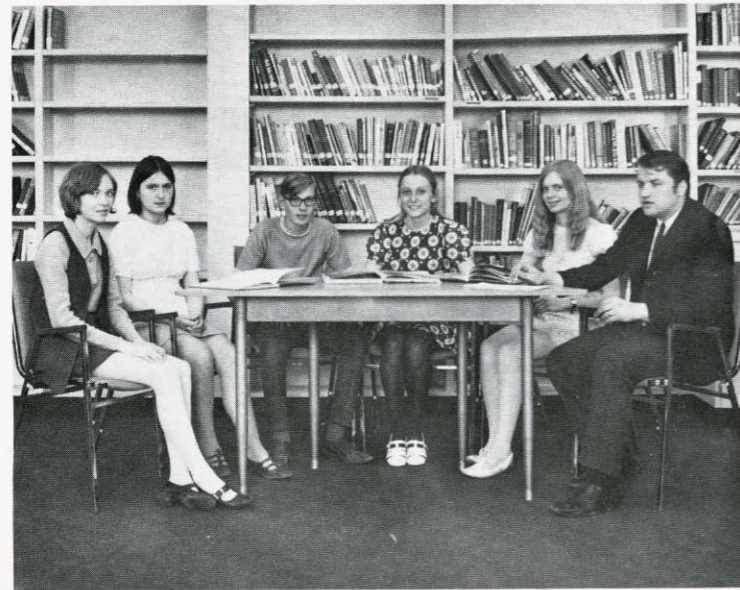

It has been my pleasure to have had the opportunity to have been the 1970 editor of the Wapiti yearbook. I found it a great challenge and the experience I gained by it will help me in the future years.

I would like to express a special thanks to Valerie Modin for picking me for the job, to the staff (yearbook) for their willing cooperation, and to the faculty and members of the Students' Union who gave me their wonderful support.

We, the Wapiti staff have put alot of work into our yearbook and we hope thoroughly that you will enjoy even just one part of it if not all. And we also hope to see the yearbook kept as a annual thing in our school.

Climb Every Mountain

Climb every mountain; search high and low,
Follow every by-way, every path you know.
Climb every mountain; ford every stream;
Follow every rainbow, till you find your dream.
A dream that will need all the love you can give,
Every day of your life, for as long as you live.
Climb every mountain; ford every stream,
Follow every rainbow, till you find your dream.

Dedication

This year the 1970 Wapiti staff wishes to dedicate their yearbook to "our Grads".

This is their world now and we are proud to have tried to add something to their lives. This is their star to reach for a life of great fulfillment.

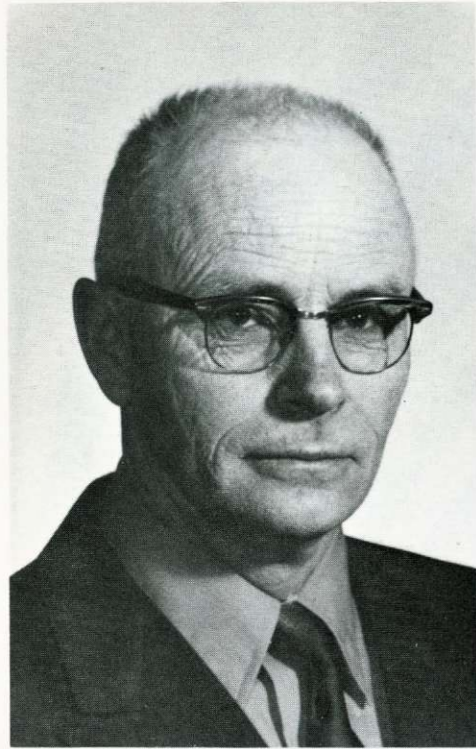

The years in high school have fled by quickly and now they are faced with the responsibilities of adulthood. What they have learnt here will have a strong effect on what their future has to hold.

Successful or not successful in the eyes of society, each will find a success of their own.

We wish the best in life for these wonderful people and may they always treasure their memories of the days spent at our school. And most of all, may all their dreams come true.

ADMINISTRATION on the Scene

Principal's Message

The words of the philosophers tell us: "The great use of a life is to spend it on something that will outlast it." If we are to live according to that precept, if we are to succeed, we must have aspirations, gain knowledge, be enthusiastic, and work. This is not to suggest that we should seek fame, for what most people desire instead is some appreciation that the work of their hands is important. Success is not something in itself: it is the adjunct of doing something well.

Belief in yourself today is necessary to your success and happiness in the long run, for you will win your place in the world by no man's favor, but by your own intelligently-directed effort.

It is obvious to the perceptive student that the present emphasis is on the educated Canadian, and further that a High School Diploma is no longer adequate. Much wider and often intensive training is necessary to compete for highly complex, technical positions. Accompanying this transition is the demand for people in service careers who are able to communicate more efficiently, and so everyone eventually is affected by the expanding educative process.

We must, from time to time, consider whether we are making the most of what life offers us now. We have to realize, that, in possessing high aspirations, we are living up to a great law of culture, -that a person should become all that he is created capable of becoming. Merely having ability does not ensure achievement, but fortunately there is a very real connection between effort and reward. Work is not only an economic necessity and a social obligation, but a basic human right and a means of personal fulfillment.

Probably women face a newer and greater challenge, for, in our society the can they can simultaneously play a role both inside the family and outside. This situation calls for a restructuring of values, for many of the older ones no longer fit.

Most young people in the past have handled the requirements of life and its pressures adequately: we, the staff of the F. G. Miller High School, are confident that all of you will too.

VALEDICTORIAN

Today is our graduation, not only from high school, but also from adolescence. As we have progressed from youth to adulthood we have learned to adjust ourselves to the circumstances that growing up brings.

Being young today is not only to enjoy many advantages and comforts unknown to former generations but to endure many trials and to cope with many problems which did not confront our forefathers.

As a result, young people today have a consuming passion to make wheels turn, to go somewhere. Discontent with things as they are is not wrong in itself. It is the impetus which has created most of the greatness in men and women throughout history. Dissatisfaction with what is around us is not a bad thing if it prompts us to seek betterment; but the best sort of dissatisfaction in the long run is self-dissatisfaction which leads us to improve ourselves.

Every young person must prove that he is longer a child. The words "freedom" and "right", therefore, have a vivid meaning for us. To experience independence we must become aware of ourselves in depth and this requires conscious evaluation. The best and most that we can do is put into practice what we understand.

We as grads ought to ask ourselves the question. "What are the things that I ultimately value?" We must answer with the thought in mind, "I will have to live with myself all of my life, and what I decide now will influence my happiness." We must ask ourselves then the question "Of what does a full life consist?" It requires that we stretch our mind muscles so as to grasp and understand much that will not force itself on us. It requires that we be awake and active. It requires that we see and appreciate beauty. It requires us to stand on our own two feet, measuring up life's demands, while at the same time we bow in awe before life's unexplained mysteries. We must recognize the dignity of duty, fairness, sympathy, co-operation, and all other things that make a decent society possible.

Obviously, then, there is more to making the most of our lives than learning the contents of our books. We must absorb the precepts into our own individual characters, fitted to our own environments and purposes in life. We must mature by accepting restraints so that restraints do not have to be imposed in life. We must do our best to think clearly so that we avoid embracing false doctrines, we must use deliberation so as to see through nonsense, we must realize our duty to tolerate worthwhile opinions of others while maintaining our own principles. We must learn to discriminate between what the majority approves of and what we believe is of value.

We cannot merely be by-standers doing nothing but criticize. As a Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police put it: "He (the by-stander) is the Kibitzer on the game of life and I say to him, if you want to have any part in telling us the game should be run, put some chips in the middle of the table or shut-up." All that is expected of us is that we make the best use of the things that are within our power.

There is no easy way to make the most of our lives, but a satisfying life does not ask for comfort but for an opportunity to exercise our abilities. Roosevelt summed up these principles in the doctrine of strenuous life; the life of toil and effort; of labor and strife; to preach that highest form of success which comes not to the man who desires mere easy peace but to the man who does not shrink from danger, from hardship, or from bitter toil, and who out of these wins the splendid, ultimate triumph."

The future will be what we make it. It will be determined by our beliefs, our values, our attitudes. The foundation of these beliefs, values and attitudes has been laid through the concern and effort of our parents and teachers. If we build on that foundation we can look forward to tomorrow with assurance and anticipation, because we have lived full today

Athletics

During the 1969-70 school term, the athletes of the F. G. Miller High School successfully maintained the high standards of athletic ability set by former students. I find it amazed that our school is able to produce so many fine athletes year after year and I am sure that part of the credit goes to the many members of the staff who work hard to organize our sports activities and willing to volunteer to coach the teams. I think that we, as students of the F. G. Miller High School should feel very grateful that we have such an exceptional staff.

The County Volleyball tournament was held in St. Paul on November 5. It proved to be rather disappointing as both the Senior boys, coached by Mr. Hellquist and the Senior girls, coached by Mr. Onusko, were defeated.

Basketball was again one of the major sports in our school. The Senior High Girls, coached by Mr. Boratyne, finished their league schedule with a perfect record of seven wins and no losses to win the county cup. The Senior Boys, coached by Mr. Sadlowske, rounded out their schedule with a impressive record of four wins and two losses. The county playoffs for zone representatives resulted in the Senior boys squad advancing to the zone playoffs which the girls narrowly missed. The boys, however lost their first game by one point to a well balanced Vermilion team.

The Junior High teams were extremely active this year. Both the Junior High girls, coached by Mr. Richards, and the Junior High boys, coached by Mr. Onusko, won a consolation trophy in Elk Point first annual Junior High Invitational tournament. The Junior teams came up with a fine performance in the county tournament but unfortunately both teams lost two games straight.

As in past years we sent a Senior boy's and a Senior girl's Curling team to represent us in the Pepsi-Cola playoffs for a zone representative. The girl's team, who travelled to Grande Centre, came very close to winning as they won three games and lost only one. The boy's playoffs were held in Glendon. There our team won one and lost two.

Next came the County Badminton playoffs which were held in Elk Point. This year competitors from boys singles, girls singles, and mixed doubles, from our school, won berths in the zone playoffs held in Vegreville. Our representatives came up with impressive performances but were eventually beaten.

This year the County Softball and Hardball tournament was held in Vilna. The Senior High girls, Coached by Mr. Boratyne, repeated their domination the softball division. Both the Senior boys, coached by Mr. Taylor, and the Junior boys, coached by Mr. Onusko, won their first two games but lost their final game. The Senior boy's Hardball team, coached by Mr. Stults, and the Junior girls, coached by Mr. Hellquist, lost their first games and were eliminated.

At this time I would like to express my thanks to the members of the teaching staff, as well as the many students for the co-operation I have received from them through out the year. This co-operation has made it a pleasure serving as Sports Director for the F. G. Miller High School's Students' s Union.

Voyages

Leaving from school.

On the steps of Parliament Buildings in Ottawa.

On August 15, 1969, twenty-four students, twelve girls and twelve boys, and two chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. L. Modin, left Elk Point on their way to Montreal as young voyageurs.

Their trip took two weeks; one week for travelling there and back, and one week spent in the city of Montreal. Here each voyageur lived with a french family and learned of their customs. Many friends were made and many happy memories were brought back home.
