E. G. Miller Students' Union Delivers NSAID Presentation

SU Executive members prepare and present information and a skit to warn of the many tragedies which could result from drinking and driving. This initiative is in response to the actions of the National Association of Students Against Impaired Driving. Below, students sign slips of paper which will be formed into a chain and displayed in the common area.

The Students' Union executive has started off this year with a variety of activities. During registration, they collected fees and sold yearbooks. A pancake breakfast and a well-attended dance were the delight of many. A new soft-drink and vending machine were added to the fund-raising activities. New Crusader-wear items were being produced. Other plans included fruit and cookie dough sales, magazine subscription sales, family portraits for Christmas sales, the Matchmaker Program and so on.

Yearbooks and Visitors

During Seniors Awareness Week, F. G. Miller Crusaders invited local senior citizens to some socializing and lunch in the common area. Yearbook delivery day found many Crusaders around the school, deep in reflection of the year gone by.

Kirsty Lindquist and Danielle Schnurer laugh over some of the fun events of the past year. As members of the Students' Union, they will be involved in many more great things to come in the year ahead.

Mallory Paquette and Kalina Sheppard also enjoy the many memories of last year.

Groups & Activity Days

Fun things do go on at F. G. Miller. Whether it be an organized event or simply an informal impromptu gathering, Crusaders show that school spirit is something they create rather than wait for, to happen.

The great tradition of student involvement at F. G. Miller continues with our annual Halloween Dress-up Day.

Staff in the Halloween Groove.
Not to be out-done by the students, staff came out in full force to challenge their clientele in costume design and makeup application. This Halloween activity day turned out well, thanks to all who participated.

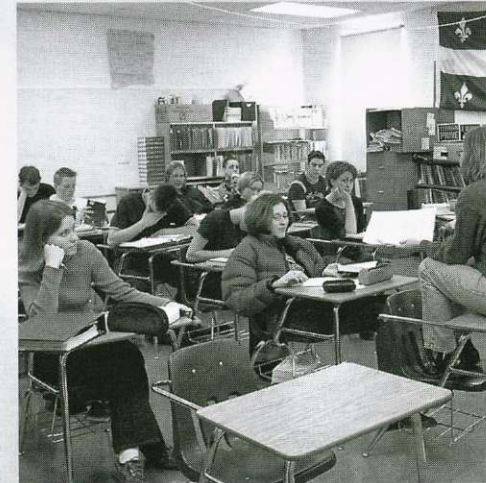

Hard at Work?

Yes, F. G. Miller Crusaders do work.

Biology 20 students display their ecosystem models. Mr. Boratynec's math class studies gravity and acceleration and several junior high students work at demonstrating their skills at the CTS Showcase in St. Paul.

Autumn Sports Scene

Even though the F. G. Miller Crusaders golf team lost against its regular league rivals, the Two Hills Tigers, they did come in third out of ten teams beating Two Hills at the very difficult Mannville course during Zones. Brandi Becker and Leanne Ference were the first female payers to join the team in seven years. Melvin Easthope and Carson Mutch who are Grade 12s, will be leaving this year and will be missed.

Above, the physical education class is getting ready to spike some volleyballs, while at the right, the Cross-Country team stands ready to depart for the day's competitions. Pictured from left to right are Coach Mr. Kiss, Natasha Scott, Corry Bezpalko, Devon Moneta, Cole May, Lee Letestu, Travis Lindquist, Evan Way and Codey Milions.

Our Grade 11 students arranged and presented these solemn ceremonies which started with patriotic words from Maureen Myshaniuk and Laci Jacobson and the singing of O' Canada by Michelle Friesen and Danielle Schnurer.

Kyle Kurek showed the students some shells used in World War II. His grandmother worked in a factory which made this type of ammunition.

A number of poems were read by Jasmine Brown, Sandy Bullock, Eva Gusnowski, Moriah Brunner, Amanda Zapesocki, Michelle Friesen, Dayna Yaremkevich, Andrew Priddle, Kristy Myshaniuk, and Laci Jacobson. Tasha Yopyk and Melissa Dorey read the famous poem "In Flanders Fields" with an introduction and conclusion by Blair Cardinal and Tara Campbell.

Remembrance Day Ceremonies

Andrew Priddle and Dayna Yaremkevich join other students in reading poems about the great wars.

With the help of photos, Melissa Dorey tells of her great uncle who fought in World War II.

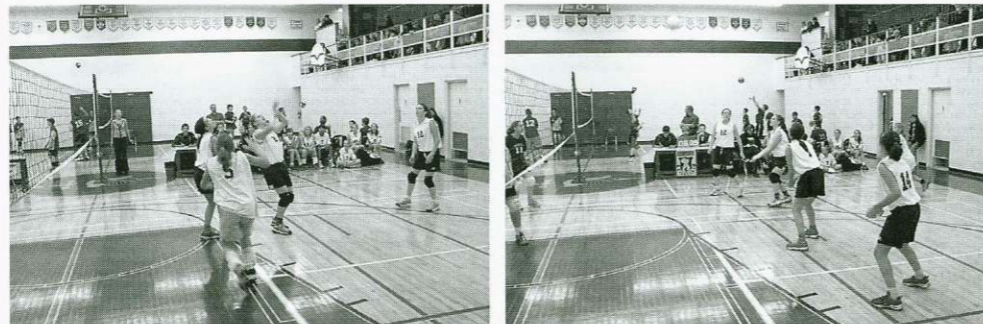

Jasmine Brown also reads a poem of remembrance at the ceremonies.

Eva Gusnowski tells of her great grandfather's service in the trenches of France.

Good Company, Good Feasting and a Merry Christmas to All

Operation Christmas Child and Farewell to Mr. Onusko

The photographs on these pages depict the preparation of the annual Christmas Brunch, the feasting, some entertainment & socialization, a visit from Santa and a saying of Farewell to a long-standing, outstanding retiring teacher of F. G. Miller. Mr. Ron Onusko receives congratulations from Principal Jim Hawkins and a token of F. G. Miller's appreciation for many great years in the classroom.

Operation Christmas Child had boxes donated by students to go to children in need in various countries. The Project run by Mrs. Bjorkman saw 90 student boxes, 15 community boxes and 3 teacher boxes collected for distribution. All shipping costs to the tune of $5 per box were donated by the Students' Union. Thank you.

Music in the Common Area & Pick and Strum

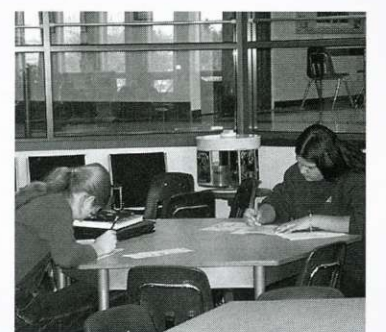

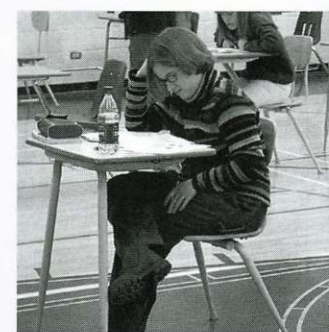

Pickers and strummers of all kinds came out on a nice crisp evening to perform to a wonderful crowd of music enthusiasts. Some of the program items were: 1. Bette Davis' Eyes, Guitar: Stephen Kozina. 2. Shake, Rattle & Roll. Bass: Greg Kozicky, Chord Lead: Dean Sereda. 3. Vocal: Dana Parenteau. 4. The Rose. Guitar: Dean Sereda, Keyboard: R. Krys. 5. Call of Kutulu. Lead 1: Colin Ference, Lead 2: Nicholas Myshaniuk. 6. 500 Miles. Percussion: Ryan Merkel, Bass: Brandon Holthe. Chord Cuitar: R. Krys. 7. Copper Head Road. Percussion: Curtis Beardy, Keyboard/Guitar: Scott Lindquist, Mandolin: Josh Boyko, Bass: Brandon Holthe, Lead Guitar/Vocals: Addison Bartholomew. 8. Nothing Else Matters. Lead: Jason Kalynchuk, Lead 2: Dean Sereda, Bass: Grayson Bilak.

Tae Kwon Do & Other Trials in the Gym

Tae Kwon Do demonstrations were provided by former student Mr. Tom Bayduza with support from older brother Steven and others. Students were dazzled by the expert works of these exquisite performers..

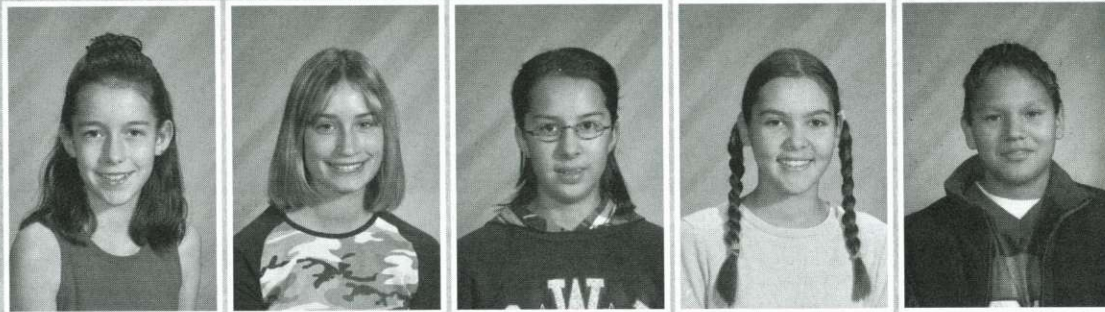

Not only did the diploma exam students reach the goal set by last year's Grade 12s, but surpassed it by almost four percent overall. This in itself was well worth celebrating. But in addition to that, our very own principal, Mr. Jim Hawkins was for the second time in as many years, invited to attend the Second Annual W. Garfield Weston Outstanding Principals Awards ceremony in Calgary. The award for which Mr. Hawkins was nominated, honors principals whose schools progressed most rapidly in overall academic performance during the most recent three-year period. It looks as though this honor might be bestowed on our principal, students and school for the third time next year. Congratulations everyone!

Morning is always tough, especially in our rather crowded hallways. Here, Stephanie does some intricate balancing to prepare for the rest of the day while other Grade 8s plan the mischief for the day.

Achievement Test Champs??? Yes!

Grade 9 is somewhat of a tough year as the frivolity and turmoil of junior high will soon become the more serious search for independence and academic achievement of senior high. Never has a basketball game at F. G. Miller High School been so much fun! The Canadian Half Pints came to town in April, recruited one player from the F. G. Miller student body and proceeded to run rings around the school faculty as they drove home their message that teasing and bullying are unacceptable.

Elk Point Review, Apr 16, 2002

What a Match!

F. G. Miller has seen its share of interesting match-ups over the years. Above, Porky Neal, Chris Rutte and Little Ricky took on much larger opponents than themselves through their message and their game. Below, more matches became evident after the computer played its game.

Who did you get?????

Students all over the school scrambled to look over one-another's shoulders to see how the computer matched them up with their fellow students.

Another Successful Students Union Activity 2002 style.

Yearbook Production Staff

Producing a yearbook such as this involves over 130 hours of planning, photography, image processing, page design and layout and finally the finished product. The time is well worth it though, as these memories will follow us for many years to come.

I have all my yearbooks since I began teaching here, and do enjoy flipping through them on numerous occasions. Begin your own special collection NOW if you haven't done so already. Thank you Mrs. Frisby for all your help on Wapiti 2002. Editor: Mr. Pidluzny

Let's Make it Happen!

Only through your commitment and involvement can this school continue to be one of the best in the region. Be proud of your school! Make a difference by making something happen, as did all these people pictured here.

F. G. Miller Wellness Day

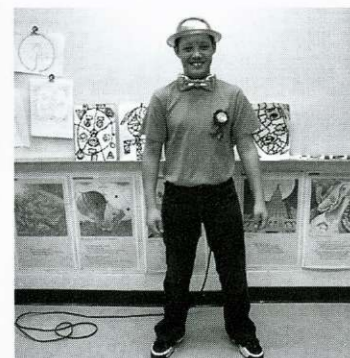

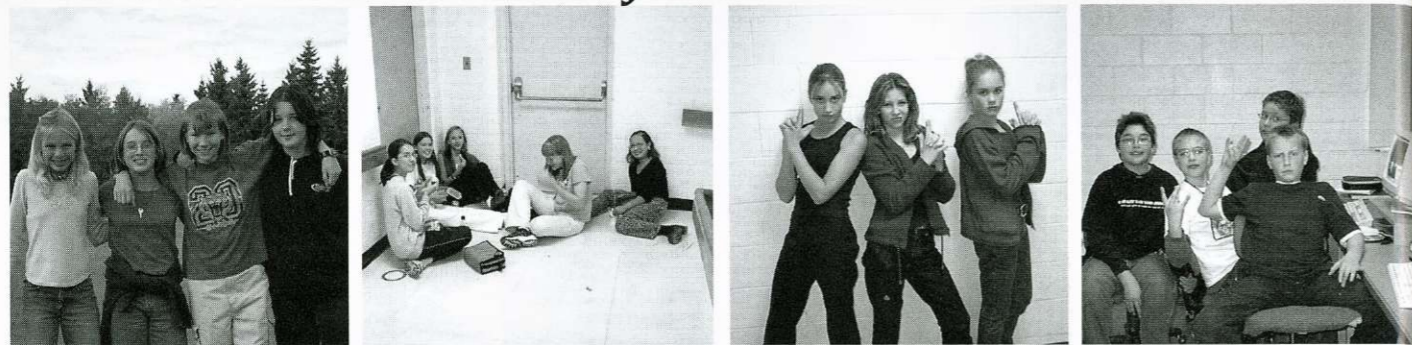

Mom's Day Tea and Kirsty's Slide Show Pics

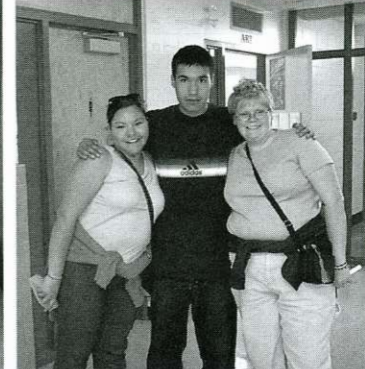

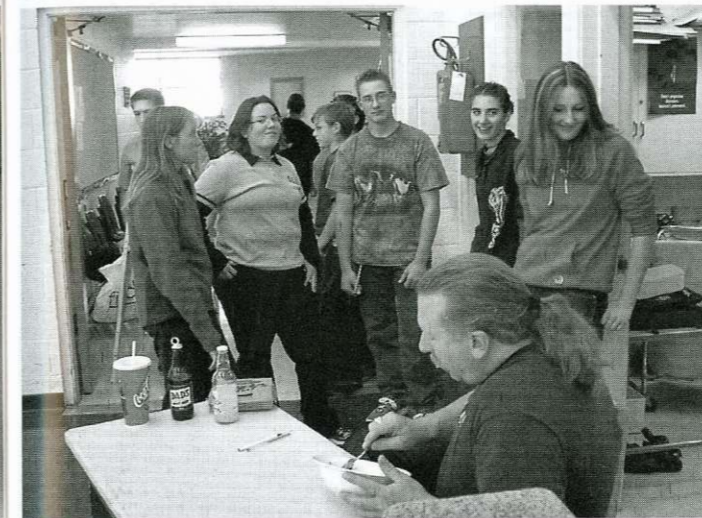

Wellness Day 2002 found students involved in many different learning activities. The list included Pakistan's Culture, Body Image/Healthy Living, Sign Language, ATV & Snowmobile Safety, Tobacco Free, Curling Intro., Addictions, Aromatherapy, Motivation, Hair Dos and Don'ts, Landscape Painting, Guitar, Sexuality/STDs, Hunting Safety, Dating Safety, Leos, Search & Rescue, Friendship Troubles, Basic Cree, Beading, Getting a Summer Job, Native Awareness, Being Stress Free, Karate, Baseball Skills, Fitness & Weight Lifting, Archery, Golf and Tennis. A talk on use and abuse of drugs by Shane St. Arnault and a slide show prepared by Kirsty Lindquist topped off the very successful day.

*F. G. Miller Staff Say Farewell to Ms. Raquel Germain,
Mr. Blaine Easthope and Mrs. Kandy Songer*

Focus on the Staff of 2002!

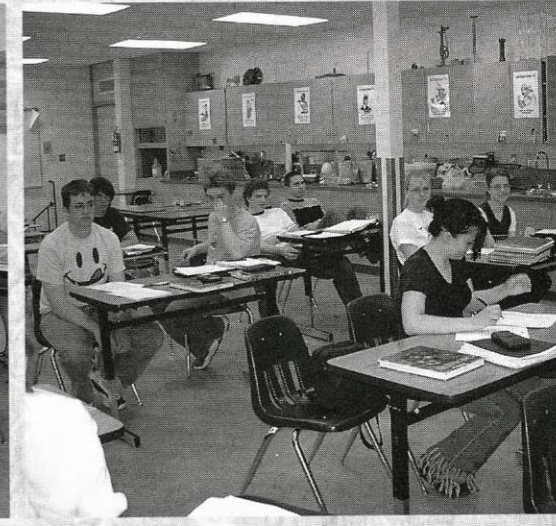

Staff can be human too! Here are some at leisure, while some still toil away. It was hard to find everyone in the same state. Also, this year we are reluctantly letting three of our teaching staff leave our company. Mr. Easthope is retiring, Mrs. Songer has accepted an administrative position at a school in Bonnyville & Ms. Germain is moving North. Good luck to all of you.

*Students Raise the Bar on Academic Achievement

Class of 2002 Reaches Higher!

Students raised a record $4100 for their Prom and Grad activities fund by donating four hours of their time to the highest bidder at the Slave Auction. A good crowd of eager bidders were on hand ready to purchase some help for those spring tasks. Cory Henderson went for the evening's top price of $270 with Carissa Maksymec, a close second, bringing in $260.

*Thank You Mr.
Easthope for your many years of dedicated service.
Good Luck in your Retirement*

Ms. Germain is leaving us to get married and perhaps teach near her new home.
