Registration Days, 2003-04

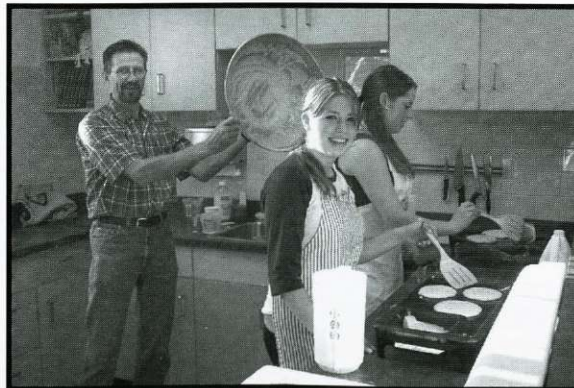

Starting with the pictures at the bottom right, students first fill out their course requests. Then over to the finalizing of their schedules with Mrs. Ference and Mrs. Lee. Students and their parents then line up at Mrs. Sereda's and Mrs. Gulayec's desk to make payment for book rentals, extra fees such as for Shop, Home Ec., Art or Music, and then Students' Union fees. Finally they go over to the Students' Union table where they could order yearbooks for the past and upcoming years.

Staff Breakfast

After wrestling with student registration for two days, and then enjoying the Board of Education Appreciation Day at St. Paul, staff settle down to a hearty breakfast Friday morning. Several staff got involved in preparing and cooking the bacon, eggs and pancakes, while others circled around waiting to pounce on the victuals. Once the feasting was over, it was back to work! First a short staff meeting, some course preparation time, and then the organizing and setting up for the Commencement Exercises for the Class of 2003.

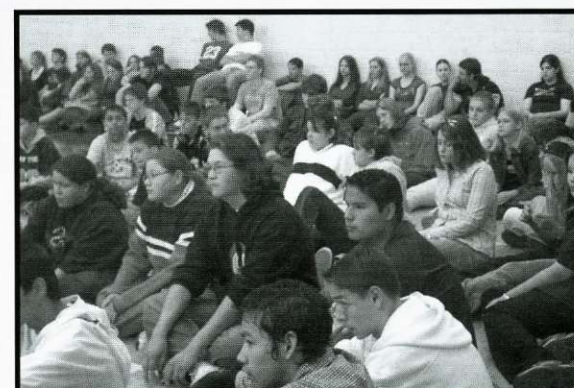

Elk Point Coop and Students' Union Pancake Breakfast

Top Left. The Elk Point Co-op sent two of its finest to help in the annual Coop and Students' Union breakfast, Mark Gormley and Dwayne Odgaard. The Coop donated and cooked all of the sausages, while the students supplied the pancake mix-in's and flippin'. Next, students chow down in the common area while later, Mrs. Lindquist accepts a cheque from Dwayne Odgaard re: dividends collected by the Class of 2003 as the community used their Coop account number 85000 when purchasing products from the Coop. A total of $1400.00 was raised, which went to help offset the Class of 2003 Spring Prom and Fall Commencement Exercises expenses.

First General Assembly

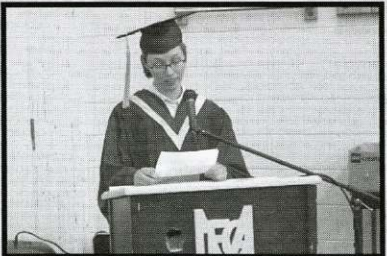

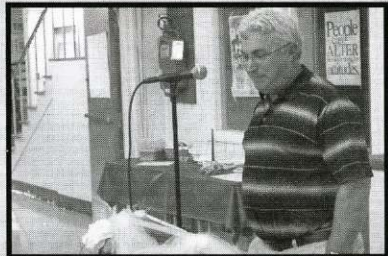

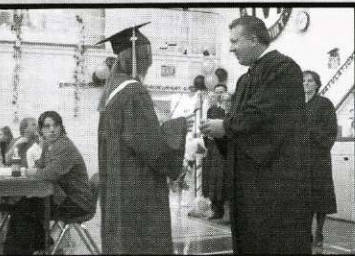

Front Page: Mr. Hawkins addresses the students of F. G. Miller as they all prepare for the upcoming term. Besides welcoming everyone, he went through some basic rules and regulations intended to make this a truly successful year of learning in an environment of caring and safety. Staff and students alike listen intently eagerly awaiting the beginning of the first class of the day. Students' Union executive members were also on hand to welcome back students and staff, and bring forth bits of information about upcoming events.

Grad 2003

Both teachers and the Class of 2003 students prepare for the annual Commencement Exercises. The gym has been arranged and decorated by the staff and Mrs. Pentek's French students.

Crusader Students and Teachers--On the Move....

It was a solid season of golf for the Crusader team this fall. With five Grade 11 students and one Grade 12 playing, the team finished in fourth place at the Zones. The Crusaders team brought back the trophy in the Two Hills Challenge. The trophy has been there for a couple of years. Team members are Kurt Kozicky, Jordan Cousins, Nicky Myshaniuk, Devin Moneta and Myles Quinney and were coached by Mr. Jim Hawkins.

The Jostens photographer displays his magic while lining students up to take their annual school pictures. Most of these photos will appear in this book. The 2002-03 Yearbooks have just arrived as pictured above. We have students looking at pictures of students looking at yearbooks again this year. And the cycle continues. In the third row of photos above, students' union executive members give out the new editions of the 'Wapiti'. Guest speaker Don Burnstick talks to the Grade 9 to 12 students about not needing to rush into growing up. He also spoke on topics such as the importance of having high self-esteem, making informed decisions and that humor is an essential part of healing. Finally, a group of students and staff pose dressed to the nines... well at least sporting their 'favorite' ties during one of the students' union dress up days.

Pretty Scary Business...

Every Picture Tells a Story...

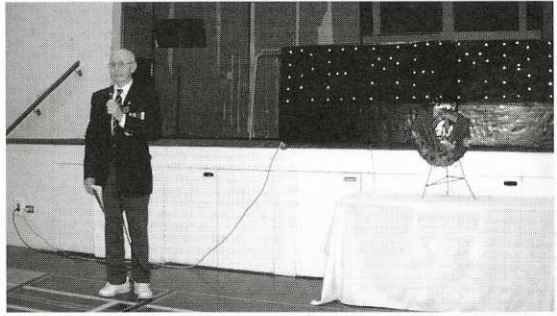

"As I walk I look at the roads. What I see are the desperate souls that did once exist as the wind gently blows. I get shivers. I think of the wars and look up at the sky. I think about how many died. Peace is the only answer, don't pretend. War is not an option. (Scott D)

"There are men who are disfigured, plus others maimed for life; 'tis pittiful for one to see results of war and strife. (Valerie)

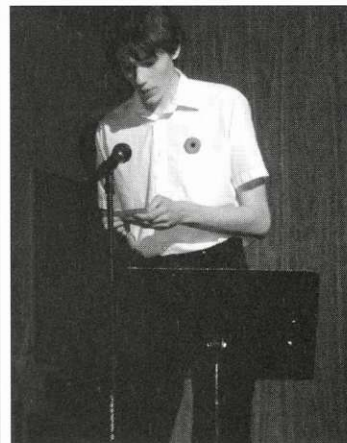

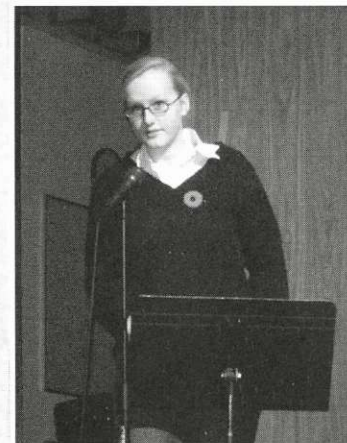

"Around 1939, my mom's grandpa was forced to bury his wife's wedding ring when the Nazis invaded Holland and were raiding homes and taking gold and other valuables. The ring has been passed down to my mom and will keep being passed down to each generation, and I get it next." (Amy)

"We wear a poppy on Remembrance Day. And at Eleven, we stand and pray. Wreaths are put upon a grave as we remember our soldiers brave." (Nicky)

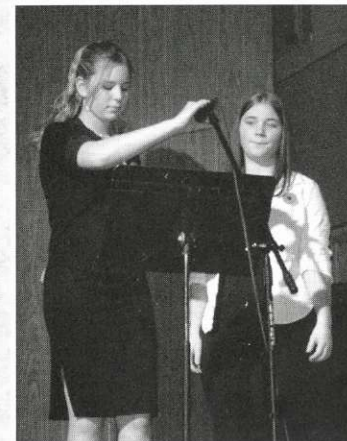

"My great uncle was not a member of the Nazi party although he was expected to be one. He helped a poor farmer who was also not a member but that was enough. They threw him in jail for weeks. My other great uncle was imprisoned in Russia for about 5 years. He nearly died of starvation and when he came back he always got really angry when his nieces said that they were hungry. He said that they should never hear that word because they have never experienced real hunger." (Anke)

"During the war, the song 'Lili Marlene' was sometimes played on the battlefield. When it played, everyone stopped fighting and remembered the people waiting for them at home." (Carisa)

"I'm scared, afraid of the darkness. I can hear the echoes of the soldiers, yelling and screaming. They died in the war. They were just like us; they were scared, burning with rage, full of sorrow. Reach for my hand in the darkness. I will show you the light; toward a better tomorrow. Do not let hate destroy your fate." (Valerie)

"My great grandfather, Melvin Nordmarken of the Canadian forces was told they had to hold position. As the gas was descending upon them, the troops were told to urinate in their handkerchiefs, hold them over their noses and lay close to the ground. By doing this, the Canadians were able to wait until the gas had blown over them, and this caught the German forces by surprise. The British and French troops had already fled the battle and the Germans had no idea that the Canadians were still in position. As a result, the Germans were defeated at Ypres by a very determined Canadian army." (Lee)

"My grandfather, George Lindquist, left the farm for Wetaskiwin when he was 17, to volunteer for the infantry during WW II. Because he was a farmer, he was nicknamed, 'Farmer John', but his real identification was K1847. At Wetaskiwin, he learned basic skills like shooting and marching. My grandfather then went to Camp Borden in Ontario to get training to operate an armored tank. There are 5 people in a tank; a driver, co-driver, gunner/wireless operator, loader and crew commander. My grandfather was the gunner/wireless operator. At Camp Borden, he received $1.50 per day. He and his buddy saved up their money and hitchhiked to New York for New Years Eve." (Travis)

"September 10, 1939, marked the first time Canada declared war on another country--Germany. This came one week after the SS Athena was destroyed by a German ship. Fourteen hundred people were on that ship, 200 of them Canadians." (Scott L)

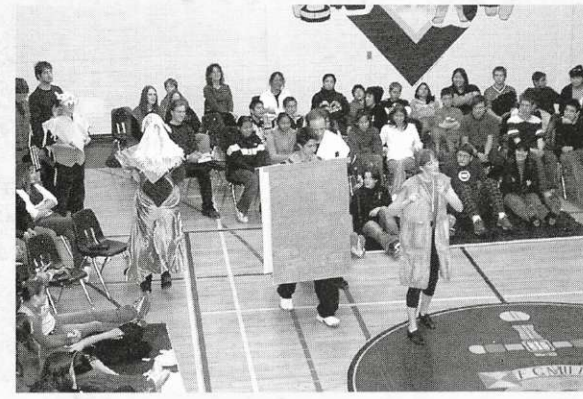

"But I am old; and good and bad are woven in a crazy plaid. I sit and say the world is so. And he is wise who lets it go. A battle lost, a battle won; the difference is small, my son. Those who are brave, we rejoice in your name. Those who stumbled upon death, we pray for you as you rest even though you left without a goodbye kiss. Those who still sit with fears we feel for your pain with our comforting tears even though you still remain strong." (Tanya)

"World War II Total Casualties by Country. Canada, 67,000. Great Britain, 388,000. France, 810,000. Russia, 20,000,000. USA, 500,000. Germany, 7,000,000. Japan, 2,000,000." (Joe)

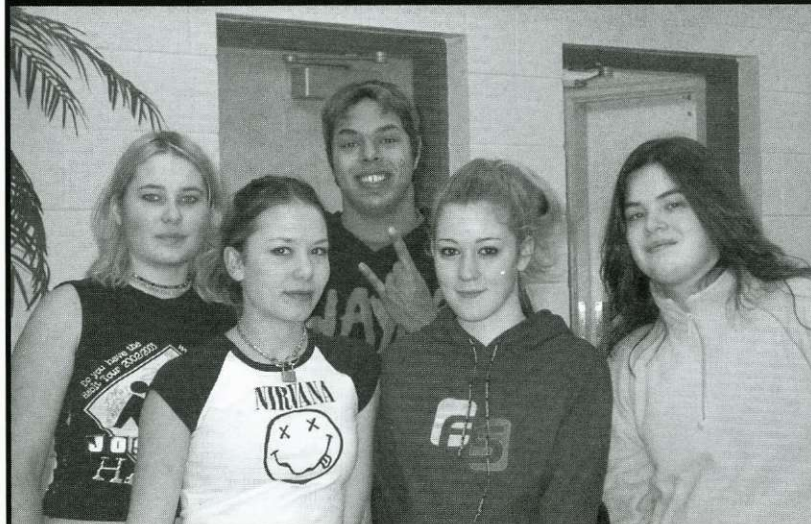

"Embers still glow from that fire. Fueled by blood; poppy red oil. Embers still glow, never to expire; fragments remain in air, sea and soil. Charred near blackened, there still remains, a branded past burning on in our heads. Life stolen, yet given by these flames that raged, that blazed; God bless the Dead. They won the final round. Tho' thorough search cannot be found. They'll still roam free, in body sound whilst we live buried deep in ground" (Devin)

A Midsummer Night's Dream

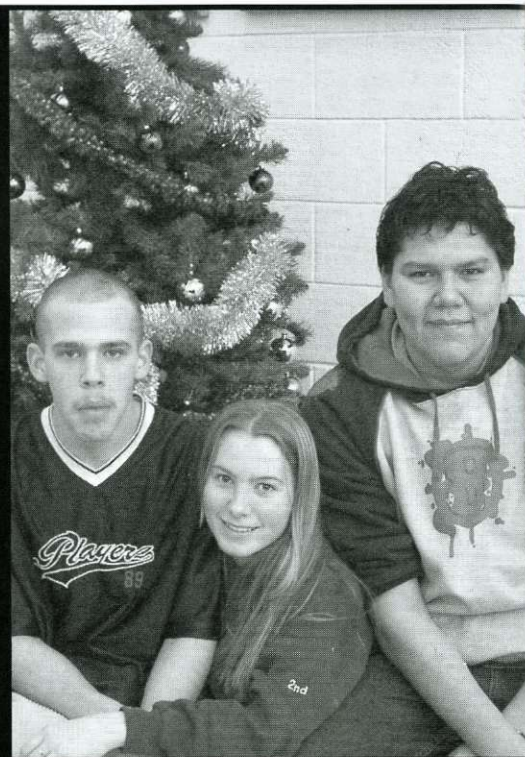

Students played an integral part in this Shakespearean play put on at the F. G. Miller Jr/Sr High School gym. Yolanda Kinjerski did an outstanding job as Hermia while others played the Sprites (followers of King Oberon), Fairies (followers of Queen Titania, and Mechanicals, (tradespeople of Athens), Valerie Friesen played Theseus' assistant while Travis Lindquist played a wall. Everyone had fun, both as participants and as spectators.

Christmas Brunch

The palm tree may suggest Hawaii but these grade 12s, Kristin Campbell, Kyrie Loughran, Jesse Kozicky, Christa Smereka and Michelle Marcoux are just relaxin' in the halls of FGM.

Bet Santa's lap was never as comfy as Brandi's! Chey and Tony aren't gonna' tell.

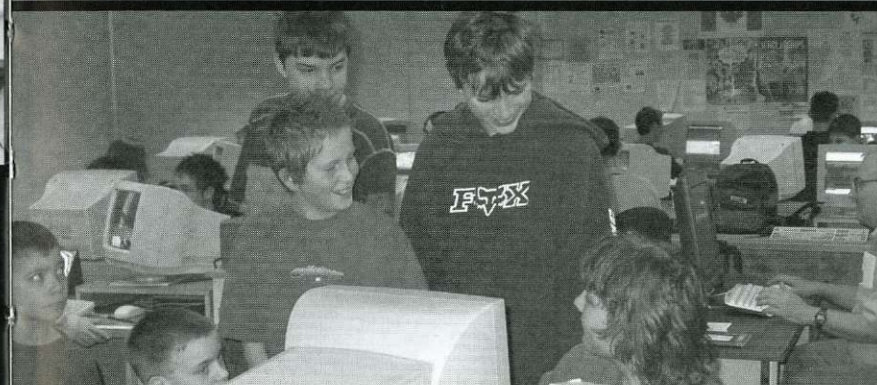

One way to pass time waiting for brunch is a good old hockey game.

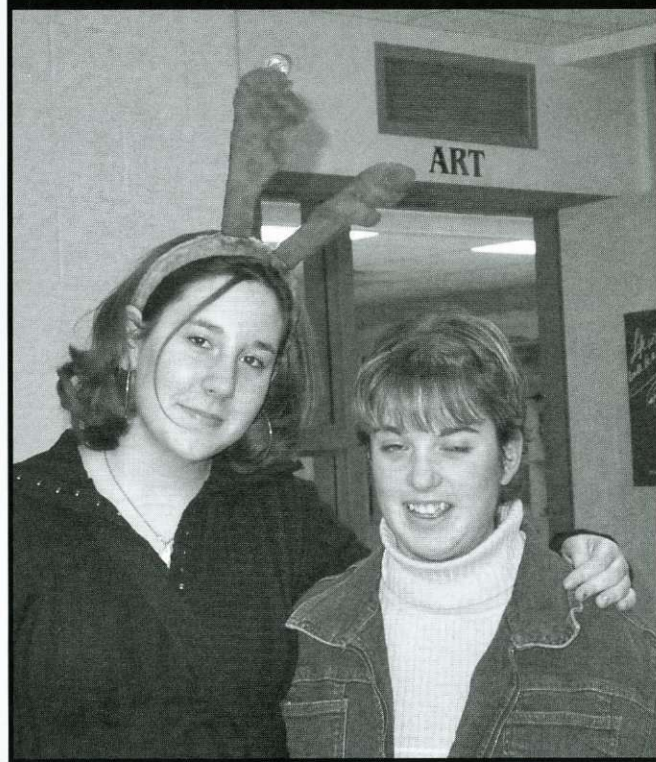

Another way is to spend time with the Cat in the Hat. Mrs. Ference and her daughter Allison exchange takes with Mrs. Saddleback.

As guests and FG Miller people eat and visit, guitarist Amanda Poulin entertains.

Is it Rudolph, Candace Babcock or the Easter Bunny? Maybe Bailey Weir knows!

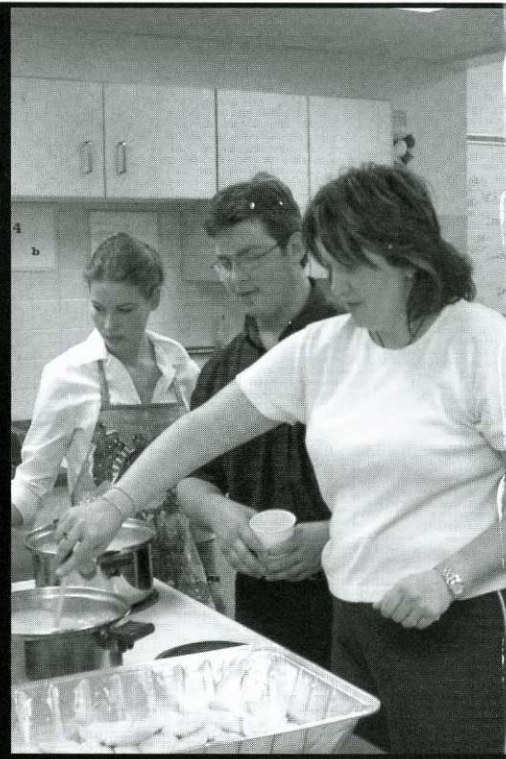

Mrs. Kozicky hangs out with the boyz; Colin Routhier, Jeffrey Classen and Daniel Shankowski.

Christmas Brunch 2

Pleasant servers always make guests feel welcome. Kelly Convery, Brandi Yarmuch, Meaghean Lehr and Melanie Fayant eagerly await the diners.

Back in the kitchen, April Paley, Austin Jurak and Mrs. Shankowski check the food's progress.

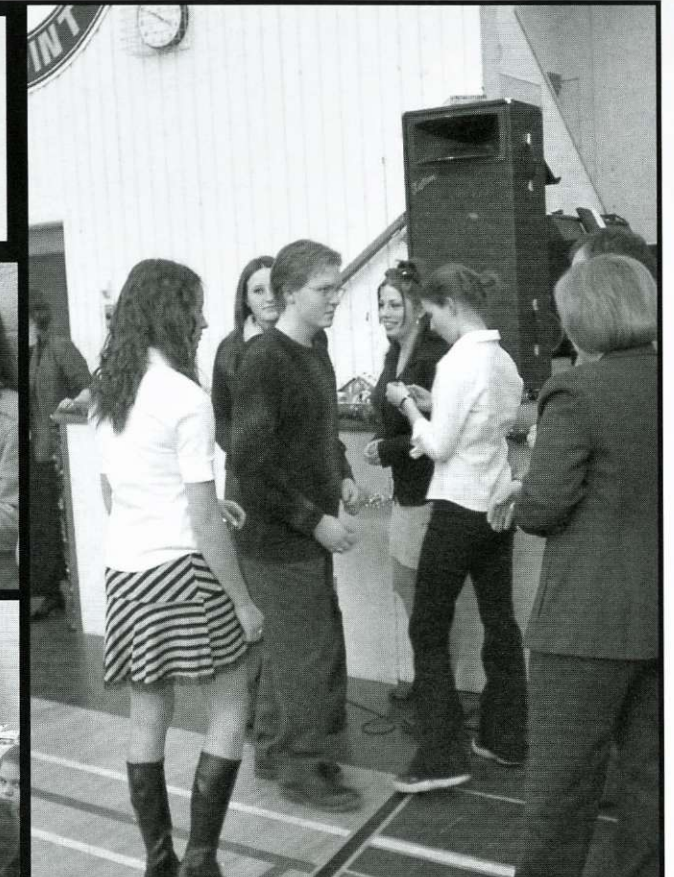

Grade 12 students carry on the tradition of cooking for and serving dignitaries, staff and other students.

The Students' Union made presentations and thanked guests. The SU also provided funding for most of the Brunch.

Mr. Hawkins and Mrs. Bjorkman presented a gift to long-time (seven years) library volunteer, Mrs. Doris Wilson.

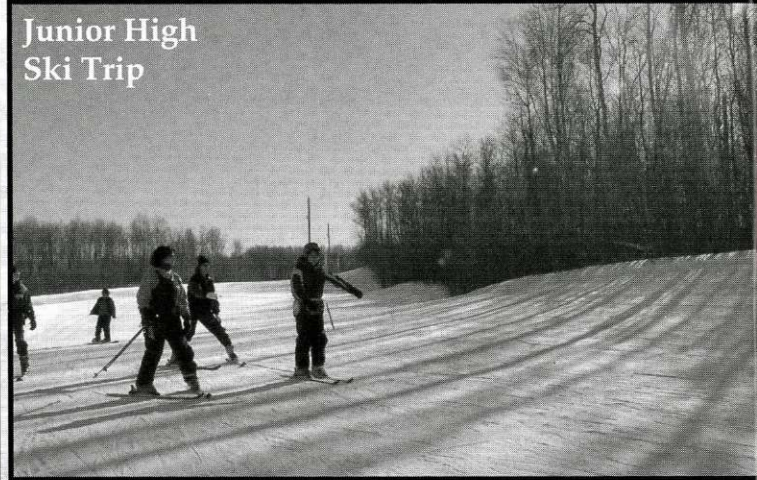

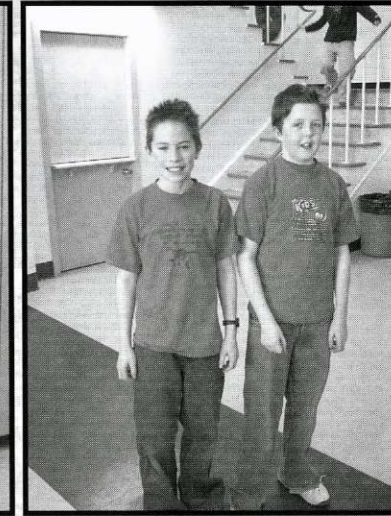

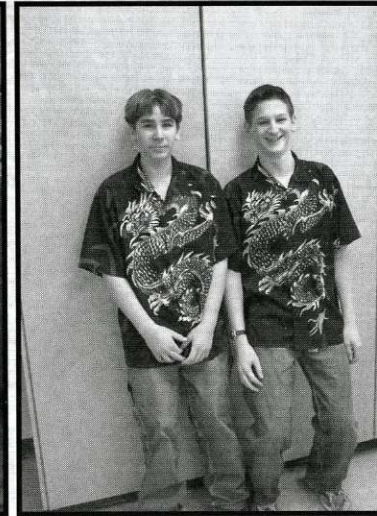

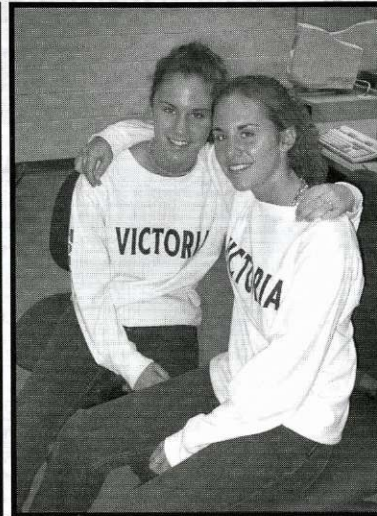

Who's really getting a treat-- Santa or Melanie Fayant, Meaghean Lehr, Kelly Convery and Eleasha Lehr as they pose with the jolly old elf?

And finally... let's eat

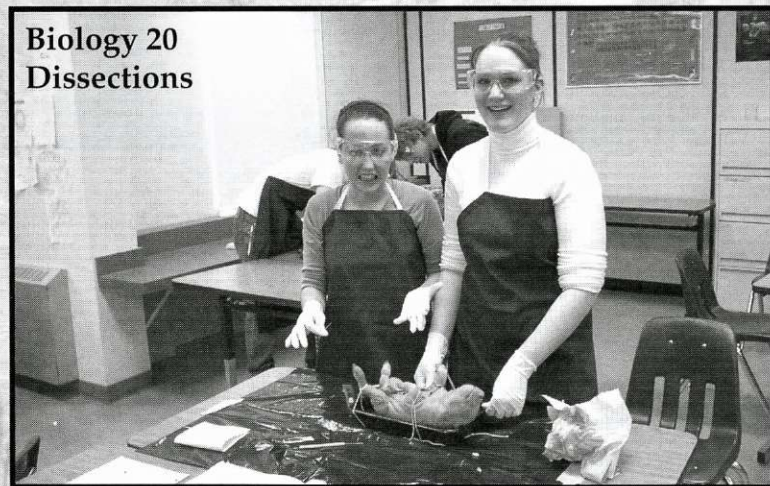

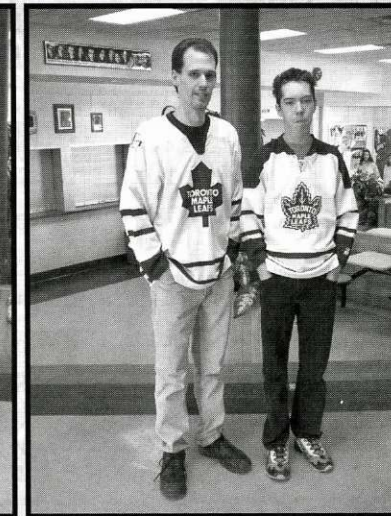

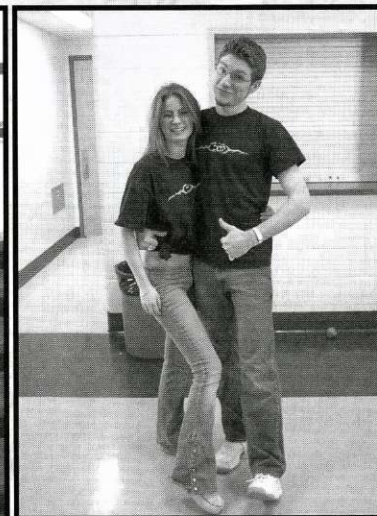

Students enjoy this last lunch for 2003 together before dispersing for the Christmas holidays.

Guests and FG Miller Students enjoy some great presentations..

Grade 12 students were congratulated on their hard work and high exam marks at the end of the first semester. Their reward was a pizza party courtesy of the administration and staff.

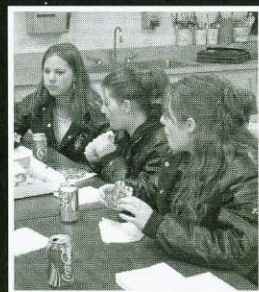

Many guest speakers visit our school throughout the year. At the left, Norbert Georget returns to discuss and illustrate the terrible consequences of teen drinking and driving.

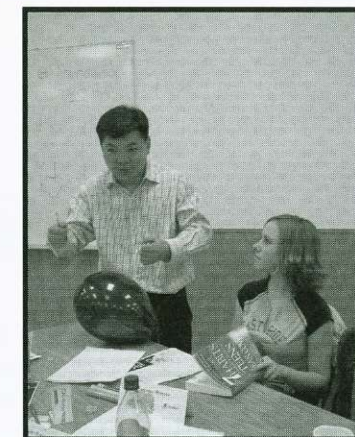

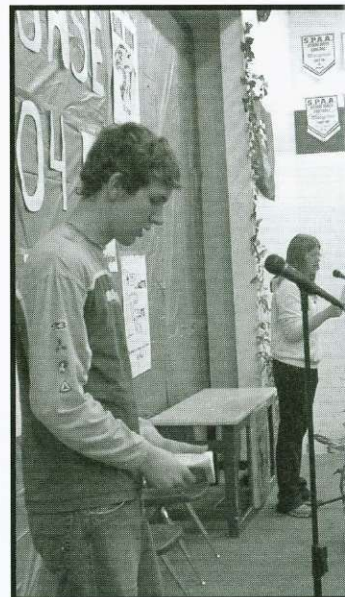

Stephanie Ference and Lisa Braga concentrate on one of the workshop tasks.

Crusaders' Great Achievements!

Kyla, Alison and Kristyn enjoy their well-deserved pizza.

We hosted speakers from across our school division who performed skits, delivered speeches, recited poems and read stories.

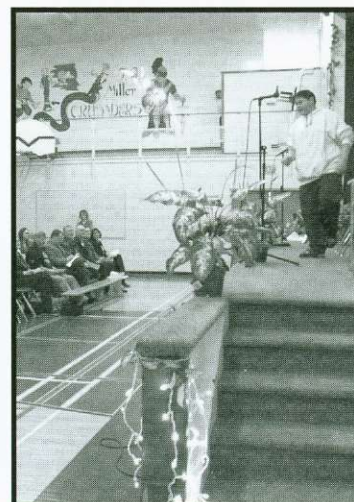

Mike Suto's day-long session was entertaining and enlightening. Chelsea seems to be enjoying it here!

Amanda Poulin and Karly Shankowski ponder Mike's wisdom

John, Michelle and others discuss their past achievements

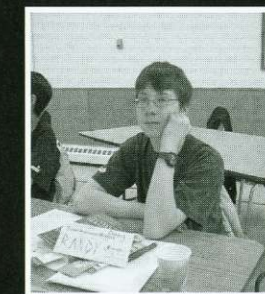

Gifts were presented to all participants and many also won prizes in a draw. Here, Mrs. Cochrane guards the loot!

Becoming Highly Effective Teens

For a change of atmosphere, the 'Seven Habits of Highly Effective Teens' session was held in the Seniors' Recreation Center rather than at the school. Grade 10 students spent a full day working with adult leaders in an effort to gain valuable skills in becoming the best that they can be.

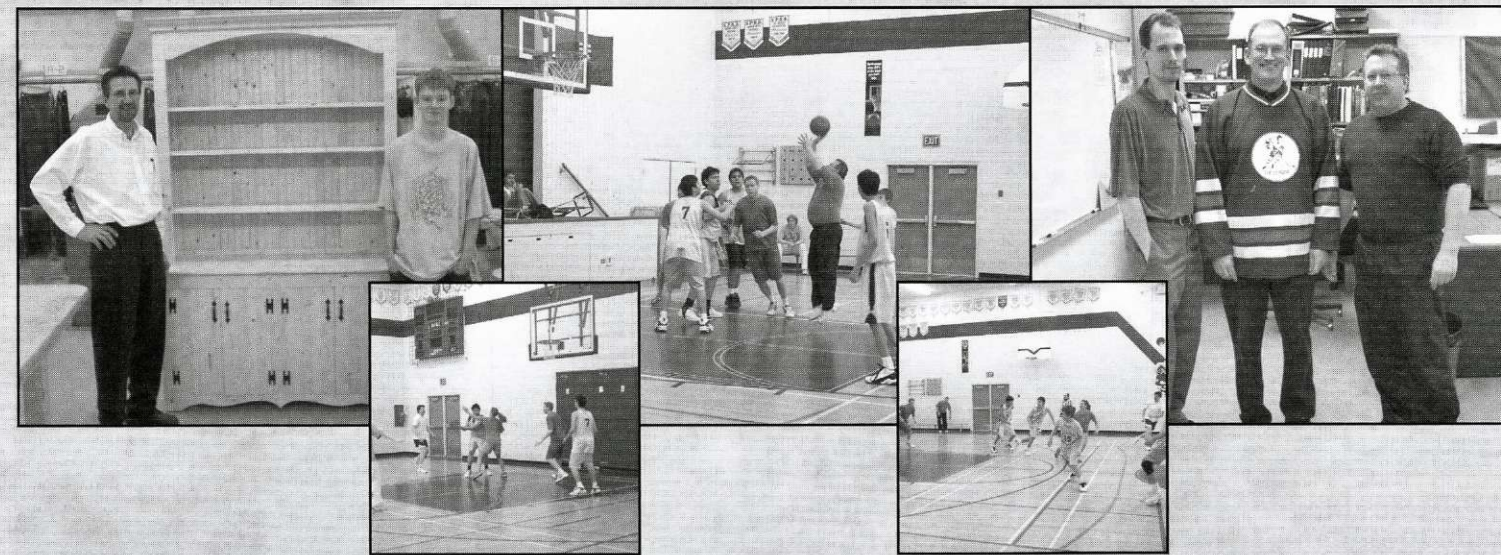

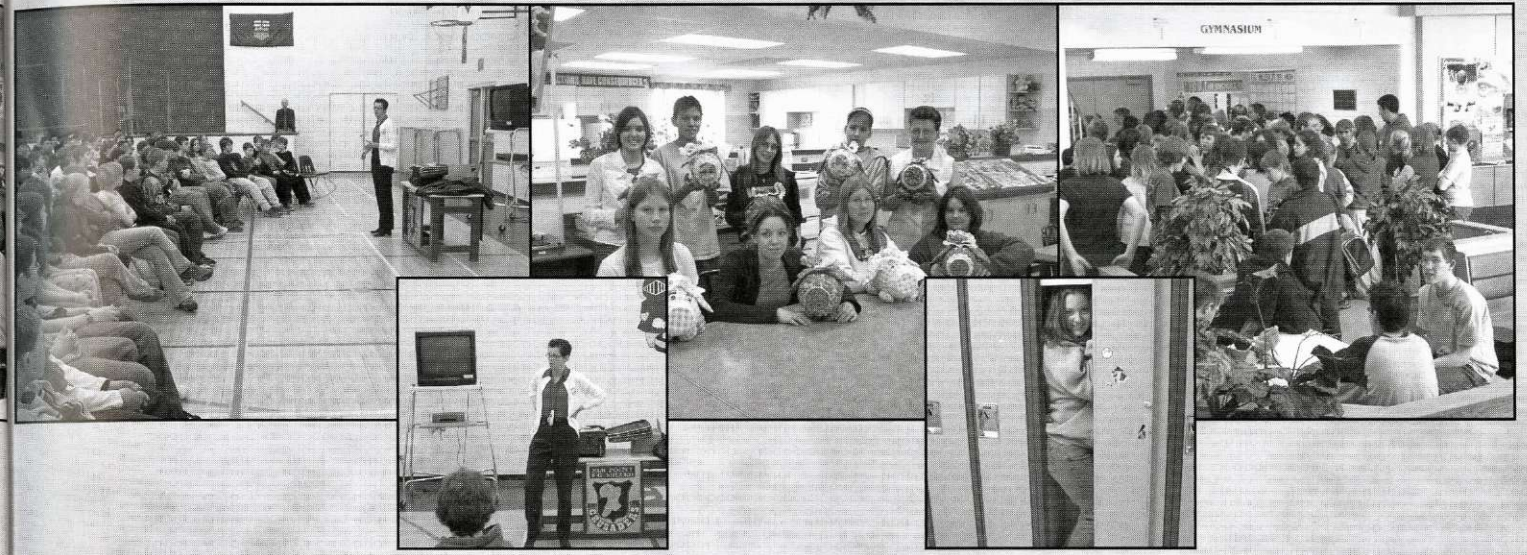

Randy Brown absorbs the relevance this session would have in his daily life.

PROVINCIAL SILVER!

Travis Lindquist again demonstrates his superb athletic ability by placing First in the Zones High Jump competition with a height of 1.90 m and a Second Place standing at Provincial Track and Field competitions with a height of 1.88 m. He actually tied with the first place competitor but needed all three attempts to clear the bar instead of only two. Congratulations Travis. You do us proud!

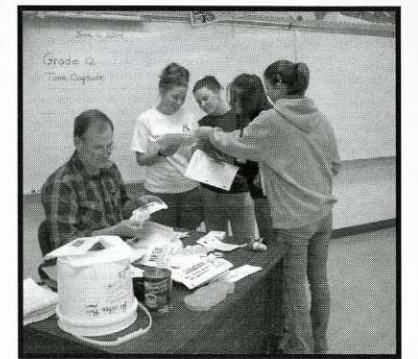

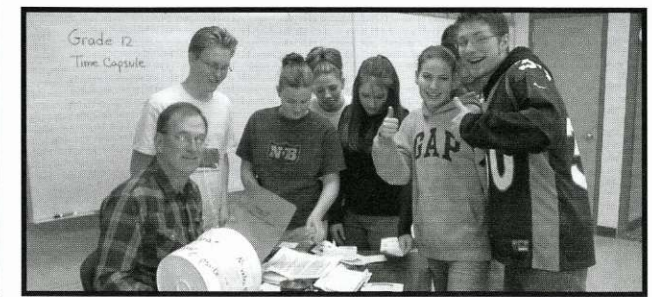

The Final Countdown!

Mr. O'Neill's Time Capsule, Class of 2004

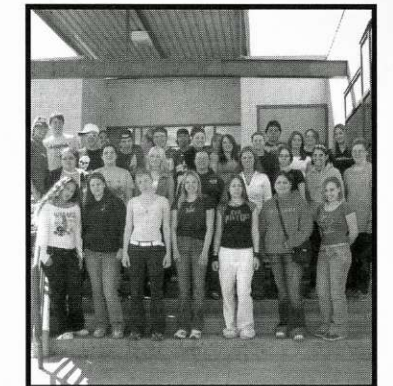

Grade 12s Back to the Future

Students open their time capsule which was sealed six years ago by Mr. O'Neill. Below, the Class of 2004 lounges out on the playground equipment like they did 12 years ago. At the bottom are two pictures of their Grade 3 classes.
